Mr. Carl Ankele
Park National Bank
Newark, Ohio

Dear Mr. Ankele,

I am enclosing a check for twenty dollars which I wish you would put in my checking account.

That checking account is suffering from acute malnutrition, and I will try to give it some more good, nourishing dollars as soon as possible, before its feeble life is extinguished completely. Unfortunately, I haven't yet found a way of growing my own dollars.

But I thank you very much for taking care of the sickly account, nonethe less.

Very truly yours,

(Mrs. William L. Krieg)
