Dear Mrs. Middleton:-

About a month ago I wrote you care of Mr. Campbell and so far I have not been favoured with an answer. I can see now the reason.

The same people who wrote to Mr. Campbell about my person some time ago have spread the rumour here that Philinda got married to a Newspaper reporter in France. I have given up hopes of hearing from Philinda and that is why I take the liberty of writing you to beg you to inform me the veracity of this.

I lost track of Philinda's whereabouts a long time ago and now I do not know where to [sic] I could write to her. You can easily see that I have not been treated in a right manner, nevertheless I am still hoping that some day I will receive some news from either you or Philinda outlining the facts.

It is an awful mistake I had come back to America - instead of staying in Paris.

With my best wishes for you and Jimmy,

Cordially yours:-
